Owens

Partner

Berliner Corcoran & Rowe, LLP

DAN FISHER-OWENS is a Partner based in San Francisco, California, focusing on U.S. export controls and economic sanctions. His practice covers transactional counseling, classification/commodity jurisdiction, licensing, designing and auditing compliance systems, as well as voluntary disclosures, investigations and enforcement matters. While not an engineer, Dan enjoys digging into not just the legal complexities of export controls, but also the technical complexities of the products involved. Dan applies his experience as a translator (in his life before lawyering) to bridge communication gaps between those who “speak geek” and those who speak “Washingtonese.”

Wanda Gilmore

Export
Compliance Strategies

Wanda Gilmore is CEO of Export Compliance Strategies, located in San Jose, California, focusing on consulting services related to the U.S. Government’s export/import regulations. She has over 25 years applied experience in the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR), the Export Administration Regulations (EAR), U.S. Customs, and Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) regulations.

Wanda has developed Export Compliance Strategies as an outsourcing option for companies to assist in the preparation of licenses, training, and compliance programs tailored to meet company and U.S. Government processes. Her experience includes commercial and military products and technology. Wanda has held positions from Senior Staff to Director in the Export Compliance field. She always accepts a challenge.

She has a Bachelor of Science degree, Six Sigma certified and is a member of Society for International Affairs, Professional Association of Exporters and Importers, and the Women in International Trade-Northern California.

Renee Roe

Director BPE Global

As a director at BPE Global, Renee is armed with over 25 years of practical expertise in the field of international trade to guide BPE’s clientele through the regulatory roadblocks of cross-border transactions. Initially working in imports of consumer goods, Renee ultimately moved on to own an import business. She has experience working in international transportation for the world’s largest package carrier, has owned her own export consulting business, and worked in high technology for fourteen years in procurement, logistics, traffic, and ultimately specializing in trade compliance. She is a subject matter expert in establishing the framework for taking small companies public including the setup for a trade compliance program. She also specializes in GTM solution selection and implementation, traffic/logistics issues and on-demand operational support for small firms which do not have the budget for full-time headcount. Renee has a degree in International Management, magna cum laude, from Menlo College.

Renee is active in several international trade associations and is a member as well as served on the Board of Directors for WIT-NC as their Volunteer Director, and Membership Director. She is a member of American Association of Exporters and Importers, the Professional Association of Importers and Exporters, and the International Compliance Professionals Association.
